

SADEKA HALIM

She has been teacher in the Dept. of Sociology, University of Dhaka for last 23 years. She served as guest professor at the BOKU University for Agriculture and Sciences, Vienna, Institute of Forest Sector Policy and Economics to teach on “Social Issues on Mountain Forestry in an International Context”. Also as visiting fellow at the Queens University of Belfast, Ireland under The Higher Education Link Program between Department of Women’s Studies, University of Dhaka and Queen’s University, Belfast. She has published in National & International Journals.

Sadeka Halim has served as elected Syndicate member in the University of Dhaka (2004-2009). She was also three times member of Dhaka Teachers Association. She is currently member of Senate in the University of Dhaka. She is the secretary of Bangladesh Sociological Association (BSA) & executive member of Women for Women and many other reputed non-government organizations.

Sadeka Halim, Professor, Department of Sociology in the University of Dhaka now on deputation, is serving as one of the Information Commissioner’s Information Commission Bangladesh. As a Commissioner she already has visited 38 Districts and took part in various forums disseminating the use of right to information to general people. She closely works with Human rights organization based in both home and abroad.

She has been researcher/consultant to DFID, UNDP, OXFAM (Canada), OXFAM GB, NORAD, IFAD, SDC, Save the Children UK, Save the Children Sweden Denmark, and USAID & ESCAP. She also has conducted a number of evaluation studies of which “Gender Mainstreaming of Policies of The World Bank, UNDP, FAO and the Line Ministries of GoB” and Needs Assessment and Costing of MDG-3 sponsored by UNDP and GED, Planning Commission, are the prominent among others.

Also served as among eighteen prominent educationists’ member of the National Education Policy Committee (2009).

She is sitting in several decisions and policy-making bodies at the University of Dhaka and several other public universities in Bangladesh & as well in many other policy-making bodies. She also regularly appears in the electronic and print media as a resource person on various socio-political issues addressing particularly the interest of women, indigenous peoples, and youth and on right to information. She has participated in many international conferences as resource person. She has published extensively nationally and internationally. She has traveled in almost 42 countries.